Clover silage is excellent.
Never whip a shying horse.
Keep all young stock growing.
Making baby beef is a high feeding art.
Clean coops mean healthy, profitable chicks.
Young turkeys and dampness do not get along together.
Any soil that turns blue litmus paper pink needs lime.
If you haven't a hog house, prepare to build one next fall.
Experts say that topping corn materially reduces the yield.
Plenty of good loose dirt should be allowed the molting hens.
The manners of the horse usually reveal the temper of his owner.

War in the Air.
A strange drama of bird life was witnessed recently by some Portland fishermen on the south coast of England. A homing pigeon was attacked by a large hawk, when two rooks and a seagull joined forces and attempted to deprive the hawk of its prey. The fight lasted some five minutes when the hawk, tearing the pigeon's head from its body, let the latter fall and flew away.

But One Official War Cry.
In the very early days the French had their "Or de guerre," the Scotch their slogan, and the English their war cries, but so many cries were launched by the different great British lords that in 1495 parliament passed a special law forbidding these cries, on the ground that they produced disorder, allowing but one battle cry, "St. George and the King."

His Misconception.
A man who was much in need of sleep rolled out of bed during the night. The jar did not awake him thoroughly, and his hand wandered in exploration. It encountered the mesh of some protruding springs and a sturdy iron corner post. "In jail at last," he murmured as he passed away.

Doing Good by the Way.
I expect to pass through this life but once. If, therefore, there is any kindness I can show, or any good I can do to any fellow being, let me do it now, let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again.
—Mrs. A. B. Hegeman.

Two Is Company.
"Did you ever tell that young man that his home were bad for one?" asked the father, at the breakfast table. "Well, father," replied the wise daughter, "late hours may be bad for one, but they're all right for two."—Yonkers Statesman.

Discreditable Point.
It is in every way creditable to handle the yard stick and to measure tape; the only discredit is in having a soul whose range of thought is as short as the stick and as narrow as the tape.—Horace Mann.

One cannot get something for nothing in this world, nor can we grow mutton and wool without feed.
Lime helps to grow legumes (clovers, etc.); they take nitrogen from the air and cut down the fertilizer bill.
Upon the farms, especially in the south and west, mules are well liked by all those who have given them a fair trial.
In the preparation of the soil for setting a vineyard good (lith, deep tillage and soil well-filled with humus are essential.
A half dozen window sash glazed will make a dust-proof box in which the dairy vessels can be sunned and kept absolutely clean.
The steers should be dehorned before being turned into the feedlot, as they will herd together better and be found much quieter.

Clover land, or land that has been highly manured for other garden crops the year before, is usually best for the growing of muskmelons.
Every day that a hog is kept longer than is really necessary to mature it for market in time and the money value of the extra feed lost.

The hog lot should be changed and plowed up frequently as disease germs are likely to be deposited in the ground and plowing sweetens the soil.

In selecting ducks for breeding, size of frame, length of body and general activity should be looked for. Without size of body we cannot expect to obtain large ducklings.

Market your eggs promptly. Keep the nests clean. Gather the eggs often. If you must keep eggs a few days before marketing, be sure to keep them in a clean, cool place.

Makes Unique Home.
In Saratago, Spain, a case has occurred which is probably unique of its kind. A child has just been born while his father, grandfather, great-grandfather and great-great-grandfather are all living. His name is Urriticochea, and the family are Basque farm laborers. The great-grandfather and the great-great-grandfather have acted as godfathers to the latest arrival. The united family constitutes nearly a whole village.

Royal Letters Prized.
Royal letter-writers may expect that in the vicissitudes of the centuries, their popularity will come to the test of that democratic implement, the auctioneer's hammer. Judged by this standard, King Edward III. and Queen Elizabeth have no reason to be delighted. In London the other day one of the king's letters sold for $1,450 and a letter from Queen Elizabeth to Henry III. of France brought $1,325.

No Monument to Eve.
The proposal to erect a statue in honor of Eve may be dismissed without inquiry as to the worth of the woman. It simply wouldn't do. The garb of the first woman of the land does not lend itself both to the statutory scheme and the growing sensitiveness of the public as to the amount of drapery necessary to make a marble statue as full as Los Angeles Tribune.

London Fog Costs.
It is under the London taxpayer is put to an extra expense of $400,000 annually by reason of the prevalence of fog. One gas company alone furnishes gas to the value of $15,000,000 and above the normal figure on a single day of fog. The suspension of traffic is another serious item.

His Habits Unchanged.
"The conditions seem to be unfavorable," admitted the trance medium. "I am unable to get any communication from your late husband." "Well, I'm not at all surprised," replied the widow. "It's only nine o'clock now, and John never did show up till about two a. m."

Evil by Artificial Lakes.
According to a German investigator the artificial lakes that have been constructed at several places in his country decrease the temperature appreciably and cause an increase in the number of foggy days.

Too Deep.

Senator Tillman, who is an anti-suffragist, listened calmly, at a dinner in Washington, to an impassioned speech by a brother senator in suffrage's behalf.

At the end of this speech a dinner, as he applauded enthusiastically, said to Senator Tillman:

"He's a deep thinker, ain't he?"

"Yes," was the reply; "he can't talk three minutes without getting beyond his depth."

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES

214 Brevard St., Tampa, Fla.—"Some three years ago I commenced to suffer from a rash on my face and back. Before the pimples came on my face there were a lot of blackheads. It looked as if the blackheads turned into pimples because after a little while all of them were gone and my face was covered with pimples. They were small at first but gradually grew and right at the end of each pimple it was all white. I carelessly picked them with my finger nails, which made them spread, and I soon discovered them on my back. My back was covered with pimples and my face the same way. At night I could hardly sleep on account of the burning and itching sensation they caused. I did not like to go out because the pimples caused disfigurement.

"Seeing the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in one of the magazines I sent for a sample. I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and I am glad to be able to say that I am entirely cured of pimples." (Signed) Jno. O. Darlington, Jan. 25, 1913.

NEW TRIAL FOR MRS. L. REUTER

JUDGE HUDSON HOLDS VERDICT UNWARRANTED BY THE EVIDENCE.

STATE WITNESSES DISCREDITED

Prosecutor Criticizes Ruling Which Women Greet with Cheers—Other News of the State.

Bartlesville.—Denouncing the verdict returned in the Laura M. Reuter case as a miscarriage of justice and attributing the conviction brought in solely to the masterful closing address of Prosecutor Pat Malloy, Judge Henry Hudson of the district court of Washington county ordered that the finding of the jury be set aside and that the defendant be given a new trial. Mrs. Reuter was adjudged guilty of complicity in the murder of her husband; Charles T. Reuter, and after imprisonment in the state penitentiary was recommended as punishment.

Court officials were powerless to check the demonstration that ensued in the crowded courtroom when Judge Hudson concluded his statement. Frantic women stood up on their seats and cheered lustily for the judge while others rushed forward inside the railed enclosure to embrace and congratulate Mrs. Reuter.

While the prosecuting officials would issue no definite statement, it practically was admitted by Mr. Malloy that the case never again will be called for hearing. "I cannot say whether we will try Mrs. Reuter again after this action on the part of the court," he declared. In speaking of Judge Hudson's stand in granting a new trial, Mr. Malloy criticized the judge bitterly.

In substance, Judge Hudson's review of the case in sustaining the motion of attorneys for the defense for a new trial, was as follows: "For several years I have been presiding in a court of justice. As is the rule with most judges I have become so that I actually believe a person charged with a crime usually is guilty. In my court I have had scores of men and women covered by the statutes of the state of Oklahoma, and never yet have I allowed a new trial. In this case, however, it is different.

"In my opinion the state failed to connect the defendant with that murder. I allowed the introduction of much testimony that should have been ruled out, and that I know later should not have been considered by the jury. The testimony of Bud Ballew, the self-confessed accomplice who turned state's evidence, in no way connected Mrs. Reuter with the conspiracy. So far as the particular defendant was concerned it was entirely of a hearsay nature, and cannot be used against her.

"Several of the other witnesses offered by the state are plain criminals and one of them, Joe Miller, practically admitted that the only reason he didn't kill Charlie Reuter was because the amount of blood money offered was not large enough to tempt him. Little credibility can be attached to his testimony. I believe Ben Burgess, who said he saw Mrs. Reuter and Guy MacKenzie in a bedroom at the Reuter home, was lying. I will freely say that I do not think the facts and evidence warranted a conviction.

"The only way I can account for the action of the jury is that the twelve men were influenced momentarily by the hypnotic address of prosecuting attorney Pat Malloy, which was the most able analysis of evidence that I ever heard. Therefore the motion for a new trial will be sustained."

NEW POWER PLANT BEGUN

State University Structure Will Be of Brick.—Cost $41,840.

Tunnel work on the new central power plant for the University of Oklahoma, at Norman, the contract for which was let to the Holmboe Construction company for $41,840; last week, has been started and according to present plans will be completed by January 15. It is expected that by the Christmas holidays the structure will be ready for the removal of the boilers from the present plant, and the buildings will be heated from the new plant at the opening of school after the holidays.

The battery of boilers for the new plant will consist of two for those now in use and a new one of 160-horsepower capacity, with space for the addition of a fourth one when necessary.

The building, which is to be of brick and similar in architectural design to the present engineering building, will be 65 by 73 feet in size and will corner with the Engineering building on the northeast. It will carry a concrete smokestack 100 feet high, built to be extended 25 feet higher if necessary. The steam leads will be 17-inch pipes inclosed in concrete tunnels, covered by concrete sidewalks. There will be approximately 2,000 feet of tunneling.

This will be the fourth building constructed on the campus by the Holmboe Construction company, the others being the Engineering building, the Administration building and the Law building, the latter of which Superintendent Frank Glesser expects to be fully completed within the next three weeks.

TULSA GETS NEXT MEETING

C. A. Skeen of Wapanucka Elected Grand Master I. O. O. F. More than seven hundred delegates to the third annual session of the grand lodge I. O. O. F. and assembly of Rebekah made a visit in a special train of eleven cars to the Odd Fellows' Orphan home at Carmen.

The regular session of both orders closed here with the election and installation of new officers for the coming year. Tulsa was chosen as the next meeting place. The grand lodge and the assembly will meet there on the first Tuesday in October, 1914.

C. A. Skeen, of Wapanucka was chosen as the grand master for the next year. A. J. Shaw of Altus was elected as deputy grand master. The other officers elected were: Dr. E. E. Norrell of Wynnewood, grand warden; G. W. Bruce of Guthrie, grand secretary; G. W. Schlegel of Chandler, grand treasurer; J. D. A. Robertson and Oliver C. Black of Oklahoma City, grand representatives; E. E. Westfall of Chickasha, grand trustee, and B. L. Atkins of Stillwater, member of the home board. J. C. Bank Wrecked; Cashier Gone

Tulsa.—The bank of Sand Springs, a state institution, and the only bank in the industrial suburb of Tulsa, was closed by State Examiner Claude Tuttle, following the absconding three weeks ago of Cashier T. Cashier Spillman, who is being sought by officers of several states, was short more than $7,000, according to Examiner Tuttle, instead of the approximate $3,000, as at first reported.

Why Old Backs Ache

What a pity that so many persons past middle age are worried with lame backs, aching kidneys, poor eyesight, sick headache, dizziness, gravel, dropsy or distressing urinary ills. Kidney weakness brings these discomforts in youth or age and is a dangerous thing to neglect, for it leads to Bright's disease and uric acid poisoning. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought new strength to thousands of lame backs—have rid thousands of annoying urinary troubles.

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

fairly well prepared seed had about twenty pounds of alfalfa seed are required per acre.

A recommended cure for a foundered cow is to let her have all the water she wants, but feed lightly until she recovers.

If cream is hung close to the water in a well that produces a real cold drink it will in most cases be in just the right shape for churning.

Consider the clovers. It often means the difference between failure and success. The clovers are almost indispensable in the farm scheme.

Darkened stables or milking late seem to be the only ways of getting around the fly problem. If you know of any other good way, what is it?

For several years we have bought farm butter from the same farmer at 2 cents above retail market prices every month in the year and glad to get it.

Milk fever is often caused by milking out the cow clean too soon after calving. An authority recommends letting the calf do the milking for the first 24 or 36 hours.

One valuable lesson the manure spreader has taught is the use of small quantities applied frequently. It makes possible what can be, but is seldom done—light application.

An old meadow is the worst place for strawberries—too many white grubs. It may take three years of thorough culture to get rid of the grubs. A drove of active pigs will do it in one season.

Lead Pencils.
I don't think I'm exactly lazy and I have a fair amount of intelligence, but I cannot sharpen a lead pencil. I've been trying to learn for—well, I won't say how long, but it's many, many years. I couldn't sharpen them when I was little. I couldn't sharpen them when I was big. I can't sharpen them now that I am bigger. Pencil sharpeners don't sharpen them any better than I do. Or than you do, I wager, if you're a woman! When I'm rich I shall hire a man to sharpen my pencils for me every morning.—Exchange.

Only Person "Touched."
Duels in France are often more costly than dangerous. The very low set figure for which an encounter can be brought on is £4 and to do the thing in style considerably more must be spent. Aurelian Scholl, the boulevardier journalist, once suffered. A friend of his sent a challenge and he rowed 100 francs of Scholl for his expenses. This sum he never repaid. "The duel was a bloodless one," relates Scholl. "I was the only person touched."—London Chronicle.

Oriental Politeness.
In China when a subscriber rings up the exchange, the operator may be expected to ask: "What number does the honorable son of the moon and stars desire?" "Hoh, two-three." Silence. Then the exchange resumes: "Will the honorable person graciously forgive the inadequacy of the insignificant card service, and permit this humble slave of the wire to inform him that the never-to-be-sufficiently-consumed line is busy?"

Mirage Easy to Be Seen.
The celebrated Fata Morgana, a presentation of natural "moving pictures" on an immense scale which is occasionally seen in the Straits of Messina, is explained by a scientific writer as being a mirage, such as frequently occurs in various parts of the world; "In fact," he says, "one may see a mirage any day by looking through the stratum of air overlying a hot stove, or adjacent to the side of a wall heated in the sunshine." Young scientists will be interested in verifying this statement.

Ancient Italian City.
Asolo, which inspired two of Browning's verses in "Asolando," and which is observing the centenary, is a fortified town in Treviso, in northern Italy. It was the ancient Aclun, and possesses a cathedral and a ruined aqueduct. The former palace of Catherine Cornaro, queen of Cyprus, is in the neighborhood. There are beautiful seats in the vicinity, and the town has a population of under 6,000.—London Globe.

Time and Place.
A little six-year-old Philadelphia girl was sent to the family physician for a vaccination certificate, so that she could enter school. The certificate required the date of vaccination. Not remembering when he had done it, he said, "Janet, how long are you vaccinated?" To which Janet innocently replied, "Here it is on my leg, about an inch long."

Divided Nest.
A North Westmorland (England) farmer recently came across a very unusual sight. In the course of his rounds through his fields he found a nest with 25 eggs in it. The large number was not the only marvel, for on examining the eggs he found that 15 of them belonged to a pheasant, and the remaining ten to a half-hen. The pheasant, as the stronger bird, was the probable intruder.

Stabbed by Umbrella.
Perhaps the strangest weapon ever used for killing was an umbrella. In October, 1908, a man named Ernest Smith was found dead in Chislewick High street, England. He had a punctured wound in the eye which had reached his brain and which the doctors agreed had undoubtedly been caused by the steel ferrule of an umbrella.

Irish Bull.
O'Brien's boy Danny lost two baseball bats. O'Brien, in a day or two, supplied the youngster with a third, but accompanied the presentation with this warning: "Now see here, Danny, if yez lose this wan loike yez did the others, O'lli take it an' break it over yer head, so O'll will."—Boston Transcript.

Listen to the salutation of the dawn—look well to this day! For yesterday is but a dream and tomorrow is only a vision, but every day well lived makes every yesterday a dream of beauty, and every tomorrow a vision of hope. Look well, therefore, to this day!—From the Sanskrit.

Willie's Blunder.
"How old are you?" asked the little boy of the lady who was calling on his mother. "Why, Willie!" exclaimed his mother. "You must not ask a lady a question like that. It's not polite." "Why, mamma? She isn't supposed to tell the truth."

Not Yet.
A bard who makes "fine" rhyme with "mind" has won a prize in a "poetical" contest. Nevertheless, we are not yet convinced that "poetical" contests are the most ridiculous things in the world.

- Give the turkeys grit.
- Rotation of crops is simple.
- Feed green forage sparingly.
- Ventilate all coops and buildings.

- Make plenty of new nests for the hens this winter.
- Every farmer should make a determined war on weeds.
- Get the binder in good shape before you start harvesting.
- You can't be too particular in picking sires for your herds.

- A scar from a barbed wire cut reduces the value of a young horse immensely.
- The close, sultry nights demand proper ventilation of all the coops and buildings.
- Corn silage has been shown to be cheaper than hay or corn stover for fattening steers.
- Fruit for local market should get about all its growth and its best color before it is picked.
- Flies breed in manure and other filth. So keep it cleaned up and spread on the fields.

Eat the Egg-Shell.
A teaspoonful of chloride of calcium, three times a day, dissolved in water, is healthful and nourishing, according to the German professors, Emerich and Leow. Lime, if taken in slight quantities as food, they contend, is a preventive and a cure of many physical ills which now afflict humanity, increasing the vitality of the organism, protecting it from harmful microbes and curbing inflammatory microbia.
"Instead of throwing away the shells when one eats eggs, it would be better to eat the shells and discard the yolk and white, according to a personal view of these professors."

FIVE CHILDREN TO WORK FOR

Quite an Undertaking for a Lady, but Mrs. Wright Doesn't Mind Now.

Ashville, N. C.—Mrs. Minnie Wright, of R. D. No. 1, this city, says: "I don't think there is any medicine made that would have done me the good Cardul, the woman's tonic, did. I have five children to work for, and I praise Cardul for giving me the good health to do it."
"I was in a delicate condition, on account of a relapse of measles which gave me severe headaches and backache. Was in too bad a fix for anyone to live, it seemed to me."
"I was told that my only chance was an operation, but I decided to try Cardul instead. I only took two bottles, and now I am well and strong again."
"I don't believe there is any medicine on earth that will help suffering women as Cardul will. I have already gotten several ladies to try it, and I am going to continue to recommend your medicine."
"For more than 50 years, Cardul has been successfully used in the treatment of women's ills. It has been found to relieve women's pains, and strengthen women's weakness.
"If you are a woman, and suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to your sex, we urge you to give Cardul a trial. It has helped more than a million women in the past half-century, and will do the same for you if given a fair trial."

CURRENCY NO ONE DESIRES

Two-Dollar Bill More of a Nuisance Than Its Value Can Be Made to Justify.

Countless persons who have some time or other accepted change for one dollar for a two-dollar bill will be interested in the story of "Old Prince" Robinson, the colored barber in the house barbershop at Washington. When the sergeant-at-arms offered him five $2 bills the other day as part of his pay, Robinson waved them wildly away, declaring that every $2 bill carried with it the "Egyptian curse" that he would rather break a looking-glass, walk under a ladder or turn back without making a cross-mark than take a $2 bill because it was a sure sign of ill luck.

Whether there is an "Egyptian curse" on the $2 note or not, there has certainly been many an American course put on it. It is the easiest thing in the world, victims will tell you; to pass out a two for a one and not discover the loss until you begin search, for that other dollar you had, but haven't any more. A currency reform that would eliminate the $2 bill and the hoodoo at the same time would be a reform that would save money for generations to come.

MRS. MANGES ESCAPES OPERATION

How She Was Saved From Surgeon's Knife by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mogador, Ohio.—The first two years I was married I suffered so much from female troubles and bearing down pains that I could not stand on my feet long enough to do my work. The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation, but my husband wanted me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound first. I took three bottles and it made me well and strong and I avoided a dreadful operation. I now have two fine healthy children, and I cannot say too much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me.

Mrs. LEE MANGES, R. F. D. 10, Mogador, Ohio. Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR DARKENS YOUR GRAY HAIR

Look Years Younger! Try Grandma's Recipe of Sage and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

WOMEN WILL PURIFY TOWN

Residents of Roscommon, Ireland, Take Determined Stand Against Lawbreakers.

Prompted by a spirit of emulation, a number of women in the county of Roscommon have started a crusade against the activities of the liquor traffic in that territory, says a Dublin letter.

They have not yet adopted the amazonian methods of the women of Kansas, but there is no doubt they have gone a long way toward modeling their campaign on the best American lines.

The town of Roscommon has a liquor saloon for every 20 of its adult population, and the women feel that this generous provision of drinking facilities must be removed before the place can be restored to a normal state of sobriety.

They have therefore constituted themselves a sort of vigilance society and for the last two or three market days they have paraded the town looking for persons under the influence of drink, whom they promptly hand over on discovery to the nearest policeman. They also mix among the customers in the saloons, disguised in various ways, and report the smallest breach of the licensing laws to the local judges.

What is more surprising is that many of the wives and daughters of the harassed saloonkeepers have joined these new temperance campaigners. They feared the social ostracism that would follow a refusal to get with the other women more than the remonstrances of their husbands and fathers.

Make the Most of Opportunity.
