DENVER PLANS NOT ENDORSED

BRISTOW CALLS DOWN BRYAN AS TO ATTITUDE OF THE KANSAS REPUBLICANS.

MUTUAL BANK INSURANCE

Do Not Favor Western Bankers Paying Losses Caused by Wall Street Gambling.

J. L. Bristow, candidate for United States senator from Kansas, has published the following editorial in the Galena Evening Journal on the speech of W. J. Bryan at Topeka Thursday night.

"When Mr. Bryan stated that the republicans of Kansas had rebuked Secretary Taft by adopting the bank guarantee plank which they did in their platform, he was very much mistaken. Instead of rebuking the great secretary they approved every word of his criticism of the plank in the democratic platform on the subject of guaranteeing bank deposits. They specifically and especially commended the substantial observations of Mr. Taft in his speech of acceptance. They agree with him that to compel the banks in Kansas to be responsible for the recklessness of the great banks in speculative centers, like New York, is unjustifiable and cannot be advocated by any sane man who has sound business conceptions.

"If the theory of Mr. Bryan had been in force last fall, the banks of our state would have had to contribute money to make up the losses incurred by the banks that failed in New York, banks that failed because they had loaned money on stocks and bonds as collateral that did not represent equal invested money. When the market value of this collateral shrunk, because the people learned that there was not sufficient property behind it to give it the value that it was supposed to have, these banks failed.

"Now, Mr. Bryan would compel our banks to pay the losses of these banks when they are wholly powerless to prevent their reckless business methods in these western states to Secretary Taft so severely criticised. The Kansas resolution is wholly different. It permits the banks of our state to voluntarily enter into an arrangement for the security of their deposits. No bank is compelled to go into it. A bank can provide any security for its depositors that it sees fit. The guarantee proposition under our plan is wholly a question between the bank and its customers. The people will naturally deposit their money where they think it is the most secure and to provide a legal way by which the banks of this state can enter into a mutual guarantee arrangement if they so desire, it is right and should not be denied them.

"All banks should provide as fully as it is possible for the absolute security of the money entrusted to them by the public and the bank that does this will meet public favor. But to compel the safe and conservative banks in these western states to stand good for the losses of reckless banks located in speculative centers cannot be justified. Mr. Bryan is as visionary on this question as he was twelve years ago on the question of finance.

OPEN CAMPAIGN.

Dennis Flynn Will Sound Keynote in The Fighting Third.

Guthrie, Okla., Aug. 31.—Republican headquarters for the Third congressional district have been opened in the Missouri building at Muskogee and the committee is preparing to show not only C. B. Cragger, the nominee for congress, but also Taft and Sherman will carry the district by big majorities. In no portion of Oklahoma have the industry-killing provisions of both Governor Haskell's state constitution and the laws, which he whipped through the first legislature, proved so thoroughly disastrous as in the Third congressional district where the oil, gas, manufacturing, zinc and lead industries needed development. The Third district can inform the country at large from personal experience how the Haskellized laws worked when put into operation the same laws which Haskell is now trying to force on the entire United States.

Preparations are being made by the republican leaders in the Third district to open the campaign there on September 15th with former Congressman Dennis T. Flynn, republican nominee for United States senator, as the orator of the occasion. C. G. "Crickmill" Jones of Oklahoma City who was chairman of the statehood committee for many years during territorial days, will also speak. Party leaders express confidence in the situation and declare that the prospects are very bright throughout the district.

LIED ON PETE.

Newspapers That Quoted Him Regarding the Halleyville Disaster Drew On Imagination.

Several of the newspapers of the state, notably the Oklahoma City Times, quoted Chief Mine Inspector Pete Hanratty as declaring that the company was responsible, through its negligence, for the Halley-Ola disaster.

A news representative called on Mr. Hanratty Sunday and asked him about the matter. Mr. Hanratty had been sleeping for the first time since the accident occurred, having worked night and day. He said that he had made no statement to any newspaper reporter about the accident or its cause, that the purported interview in the newspapers was a lie.

He added that whenever he made a statement it would be over his signature. All other purported interviews would be unauthorized.

SALUTE THE FLEET.

Australians Give the Americans a Reception.

Melbourne, Aug. 29.—A demonstration, the like of which has never occurred in this city before, greeted the American battleship fleet as it entered Port Phillip here this morning. Salute after salute was fired from the shore, to which, responses were made by the ships of the fleet. A reception committee, composed of government dignitaries and prominent citizens of Melbourne and Australia, met Admiral Sperry at the entrance to the harbor. The latter told his hosts that the trip from Sidney had been made with splendid success and that no undue incident marked its progress. The city today is filled with people here to join in the welcome provided for the American sailors. Business houses are brilliantly decorated on every hand. The entertainment provided for the ten days which the fleet is to remain here is of the very highest order. An elaborate reception will be tendered Admiral Sperry and his officers tonight by the governor general and the mayor of Melbourne acting as hosts in chief.

CROCKETT LEE NOT REMOVED

OKLAHOMA SUPREME COURT DECLARED THE STATUTE VOID—REVIEW IN COURT.

SPRINGS ONE ON COUNCIL

Case of Christy vs. Kingfisher, He Said That City Marshal Can Not Be Removed Under Law.

A new one was sprung on the city council today when the attorney of Crockett Lee served notice that he would continue to expect his pay from the city and that he was ready to resume his duties as chief of police. Accompanying the notice was a copy of the 13th volume of the supreme court reports of Oklahoma, the case of Christy vs. Kingfisher, pages 555 to 604.

In that case the city council of Kingfisher tried to remove T. P. Christy, city marshal of Kingfisher on a charge of corruption in office.

The court held that a statute that provided a judicial proceeding to remove an official and did not provide for a review of the proceeding was void and void, quoting the organ act of Oklahoma as grounds for such conclusion. The constitution of Oklahoma, article 7th is even stronger than the section of the organic law quoted.

The supreme court decision is in construction of the statute under which City Attorney Hart and the council proceeded in the Lee case. Judge Barber, judge of the Garfield county district court had a similar case before him the other day and he called the attention to the supreme court decision, which he helped to make and declared that it was in force in Oklahoma.

The council is now in a dudgeon of a chief of police, under the circumstances without running the risk of a heavy damage suit personally for false imprisonment every time he makes an arrest.

DEVELOP MINERALS.

Hardly Any of Marvelous Resources of Oklahoma Yet Developed.

According to the statements of Professor Gould, the director of the Oklahoma geological survey, Oklahoma has more kinds of minerals and more minerals of a kind than any state in the union but they are largely undeveloped. For all the practical use the minerals are to the people of the state, Oklahoma might as well be like Nebraska or Delaware, without products there because until these products are developed, the state gets no benefit from them. In such states as Arizona, North Carolina and Kansas that have developed their mineral resources, the tax rate has been lowered in some cases nearly half. The laws of Oklahoma will continue to be high until her mineral products are developed, and the sooner these products are utilized, the sooner will taxes become normal. The geological survey is now at work endeavoring to find out just what Oklahoma has and where it is located. Eight parties are now in the field investigating the oil, gas, coal, granite, lead, zinc, asphalt, gass sand, gypsum, salt, clay, stone, and other valuable products of the state. Reports will be published setting forth these things.

POPS MAY FUSE.

Effort to Get Oklahoma Populists to Unite With Hearst Crowd.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 31.—With John S. Allen of Norman in the chair the people's party state convention opened here today. Many delegates were present from all parts of the state, and after the call to order an adjournment was taken. This afternoon the temporary and permanent officers are being elected. An effort will be made to effect a fusion with the new independent party, which is headed by W. H. Daffenderfer of Ardmore.

TULSA CONVENTION.

Democratic Clubs Gathering at Tulsa to Promote Platform.

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 31.—Democrats from all parts of Oklahoma are assembling here today for the state convention which convenes tomorrow. The meeting promises to be the greatest yet held in the history of the party. It will be in the nature of a love feast, say democrats, and will end with the formal opening of the campaign. Gov. C. N. Haskell is expected here on Friday, and he will deliver the keynote speech of the convention. There is nothing else to do except to formulate a platform, and provide plans for the campaign to be conducted under the management of Joe E. Thompson of Pauls Valley, the recently elected chairman of the state central committee. It is barely possible the democrats will formally express themselves on the dispensary system, although there is a movement among the leaders to keep down discussion of this question. A novel feature of the convention will be that a majority of the delegates will not be accorded because of the fact that in a number of the counties no delegates were elected. Speculation is rife here today as to who will be the officers of the convention but this matter has not been definitely settled.

HELPING MISSOURI.

Another Big Printing Contract for State Goes Out of Oklahoma.

Guthrie, Okla., Aug. 31.—The third big printing contract has been let to Oklahoma, this time for the printing of the state's administrative reports, not the standing the protests of typographical unions and of Haskell's pressmen, early in his career as executive, to have all such work done at home. During the past few days the Stephens Publishing Company, of Columbus, Mo., was given the contract to print two volumes of the state supreme court reports, the contract price being $200 and the Pipes-Reed Company of Kansas City was given a contract by the State Library Board to furnish two thousand volumes for the state law library at $1.25 per volume. Several weeks ago, another contract was given to the Pipes-Reed Company of Kansas City to print the revised edition of the Oklahoma statutes, the contract price being $24,000. This makes a total of $28,000 of the state's money expended for printing outside the state by the democratic administration. All contracts being let, too, when there are Oklahoma concerns well fitted to do the work.

MAKE CEMENT.

Oklahoma Has Abundance of Materials for Making Portland Cement.

Some day Oklahoma will make its own Portland cement and stop paying tribute to other states. There is limestone in practically all parts of Oklahoma and near the limestone there plenty of clay for the manufacture of cement. The Kansas cement men last year made nearly half a million dollars clear profit out of the people of Oklahoma for material that should have been manufactured here at home. There are now two Portland cement plants in Oklahoma, one at Ada and one at Dewey. Both are turning out a superior product. The Oklahoma geological survey is now investigating the cement rock in various parts of the state and when its report is published, a number of additional plants will doubtless be established. Oklahoma has all sorts of cement rock and fuel for its manufacture. There is no reason for sending our good money out of the state.

Charley Baumer came from Muskogee Sunday to spend the day with home folks.

John Harper and Mamie Carle of McAlester secured a marriage license in Muskogee Saturday.

The First M. E. Church had the largest crowd Sunday morning since the pastorate of Mr. Arnett began. There was a strong sermon, followed by a class meeting, to which over a score responded. At night Rev. Dr. W. O. Madison of Denver, Colo., preached an inspiring sermon.

ALDERSON STOCK IS DESTROYED

TOTAL LOSS OF BLOCK INCLUDING STAR STORE AND JOLLY'S STORE SUNDAY NIGHT.

BUCKET BRIGADE IN ACTION

But for Valiant Efforts on Part of Volunteers and Direction of Wind, Loss Would Have Been Far Greater.

At 11:30 Sunday night a fire was discovered to have broken out in the northeast corner of the Star store at Alderson, owned by Rosensteln & Grubbs.

It was first seen by a First-aid boy, who was playing checkers across the street. The alarm was given and soon volunteers were put to work extinguishing the flames. The wind was from the south which prevented the spread of the fire.

The men worked valiantly but the buildings were all of wood and the fire spread fast. By midnight it had reached the drug store of W. D. Jolly.

The Star store was completely destroyed, both building and contents. A vacant building of the west, owned by Vogel & Fierstine and the office of T. G. Wilkes, justice of the peace, were next in the flames.

The office and all its contents, including dockets, papers and statutes, were utterly wiped out. Then a building owned by Vogel & Fierstine and until lately occupied by a pool hall, was wiped out.

The Jolly drug store was soon beyond the power of the fire-fighters to save, although they made a hard fight. The store was a total loss, but the Jolly residence, but a few feet away, was saved. Mrs. Jolly was at the time in the house, very sick.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Rosensteln & Grubbs had already gotten in their fall stock. They estimated their stock and building as worth $15,000. There was $500 insurance on the building, $300 on the fixtures and $8,300 on the stock. The insurance on the stock had been reduced $2,000 just a few days ago. The next three buildings were owned by Vogel & Fierstine and were valued at $800. Mr. Jolly owned his building and the loss total $3,500. It is a most covered by insurance. Mr. Jolly announces that he will build right away. He is very grateful to a night for saving his house which is thought at the time was the chance of accomplishment.

TEN DROWNED.

Ten Relatives of Mrs. Lee Wallace of North First Street Died in the Waterspout in New Mexico.

Mrs. Lee Wallace, who lives on North First street, is in receipt of a telegram from Polson, N. M., stating that the families of both her brothers Charles and T. W. Wheeler, and her youngest daughter, had been drowned as a result of the terrible waterspout there last week.

Mrs. Wallace had noticed the names of two of her brothers in the newspapers and had written to Polson for particulars. The telegram to her stated that ten of her folks had been drowned. Mrs. Jerry Williams, who boards with Mrs. Wallace, is also very much worried for she has two sons in the same community. Wm. and Charley Katsner. She has been unable to hear anything about them but is anxious over the fact that their names do not appear in the press dispatches.

Shorly, Acquitted.

Charles Gerald, better known as Shorly, was tried in Justice Tarter's court today by a jury on the charge of carrying concealed weapons, for which he was arrested by Constable Banks.

Shorly admitted the possession of the pistol but explained that he was justified in carrying it, as he lived down on South Main and often carried as much as $100 on his person when going home at night. He stated that he merely carried the pistol to and from his place of business. The jury took his version of the matter and brought in a verdict of acquittal.

Italian Funeral.

John Mattica, an Italian mason at Hillsville, who was brought to McAlester's hospital last week with a severe case of typhoid fever, died Saturday and was buried at the Catholic cemetery here Sunday afternoon. The funeral procession passed up Choctaw avenue early in the afternoon led by a band that played an appropriate dirge.

The First Watch Made In America Was A Howard

That was in 1842. And they have been making them ever since. Continuously improving their methods and making more perfect their organization until today you can buy for $35.00 a Howard watch equal to the $150.00 timepiece of your father, and for $150.00 you can buy a Howard equal to the $500.00 watch of twenty years ago. But even more wonderful than the extreme timekeeping accuracy of the Howard is its absolute freedom from the mechanical idiosyncrasies which which the average watch is afflicted. No impractical levers, no thin pivots, poorly proportioned jewels or unorthodox springs to cause annoyance. And if you accidentally fall to rewind your watch at the end of twenty-four hours it will run—but here is where I come to the gist of my story. On Thursday, at 10 a. m. October the first, we will wind up in full a $125.00 Howard watch, after which it will remain in our window, in full view of the public and will not be touched by anyone until it runs down of its own accord. If you will correctly figure out (and we will give you all the dimensions of the watch to assist you) the exact time it will run down we will give you absolutely free of cost the $125.00 Howard watch, or any other merchandise in the house valued at $125.00.

By the way, we have just received an additional line of Belle Pink, even finer than the ones we received about four weeks ago, which can be bought at prices which range from $2.00 to $5.00. The one at $5.00 is especially nice and entitles you to five estimates on the Howard watch. Incidentally you should not forget that

DOUGLAS LEAVES.

As predicted by The News some time ago, Col. Clarence D. Douglas has resigned as editor of the Muskogee Phoenix and sold his stock, and George C. Hensch, formerly manager of the Associated Press in St. Louis, is his successor.

While the accession of Mr. Hensch brings to Oklahoma newspaper freedom one of the best news collectors in the southwest, the departure of Colonel Douglas makes a distinct void. There are not two Douglases. Whether he wrote in his own forceful prose or occasionally broke into his own peculiar poetry, Colonel Douglas was always interesting. When he was at home there were never any canned editorials; everything was fresh, full of life and vigor.

The News has had occasion many times to take issue with the pleasure columnist, but it has always respected and liked him. Sometimes he touched political schemes worthy of Colonel Sellers, but he battled for them in his own intimate style and everything he uttered was given state-wide circulation.

He was one of the original statehood boomers and waged a royal battle for the only kind of statehood possible, even at risk of ceasing business support in his own town.

Colonel Douglas in his farewell gives no indication as to his future plans. Whatever they may be The News wishes him a full measure of success. It is to be hoped he will remain in Oklahoma. Oklahoma would be lonesome without him.

VIGILANCE NEEDED.

The News feels like giving the guaranty of bank deposits law a fair test. But there should be greater vigilance by the commissioner. There is now a bank in Muskogee named after the law that is advertising in the Commissioner and other outside publications that it will pay four per cent interest on time deposits and the officers from time to time tell of how the money goes in gifts jars and otherwise. Unless this feature is guarded carefully there is like to be so much money on deposit on which the bank must pay four per cent interest, as to encourage a recklessness in the matter of making loans which will cause the same sort of disaster that took place in 1857, after the distribution of an unusual amount of money in various banks throughout the state.

One of the causes of reckless banking in the great money centers has been the presence of a lot of money not earning anything. Human nature is the same everywhere and when there is a vast amount of idle money in a bank it is the most natural thing in the world for bankers to make risky, speculative loans.

FOLKS READ FICTION.

The state librarians are worried because the file on department of public libraries is patronized so much more than the other departments. As long as folks are folk the librarians will have their worries for nothing. The writer was to write a bulletin for two years and spent two hours daily in a public library for a year after leaving school. His observation was that unless some school, society or club has assigned specific tasks to people the performance of which requires special investigation, the file on departments is the only department of a library ever used anywhere. A notable exception is the congressional library at Washington, where a large percentage of the patrons of the library is made up of professional students and writers.

The supreme court has upheld Governor Haskell's contention that the attorney general of Oklahoma can file suit on behalf of this state on by the governor's direction. Judge Stuart asked the same question when Attorney General West rushed over here the day before Saturday and filed his printed suit against the coal companies as soon as he had taken the oath of office. Judge Cole held with Judge Houston of the Logan county district court, that the attorney general had authority.

Dr. W. C. Fulkerson, an old line democrat refers to our beloved governor as the Apollon of the Oklahoma democracy. Frank Greer borrowed a Bible and found that Apollon was the Greek name of the king of the angels in the bottomless pit. The governor would be really mad except for this kingdom. He doubtless has concluded with his Satanic majesty that it is "better to rule in hell than serve in heaven."

The Oklahoma democrats concede one congressman to the republicans. The republicans concede one congressman to the democrats. The one democratic congressman is Scott Ferris who has nobody running against him. The one congressman conceded to the republicans by the democrats is Bird McGuire, who is a most if not quite in Ferris' happy situation. He has only Henry Johnson running against him.

People who heard C. W. Trickett speak in McAlester during the late campaign under the auspices of the anti-saloon league, about his wonderful work in enforcement of the prohibition law, never dreamed that a man who talked like he did would be conceded inside of a year of accepting money to drop prosecutions under the same law he extolled so highly.

If Colonel Taters Watson is correctly quoted now in skinning Haskell and claiming the governor was against him because he couldn't boss him, who was it that wrote those articles for which Colonel Watson spent some $700 assuring the people that he and the governor were thick as three in a bed?

The Guthrie State Capital, in talking of how the typographical union has barred politics, says that the printers of the country are republicans, democrats and prohibitionists from principle. Who ever heard of any republican or democratic printer? They are all prohibitionists.

The News has insisted all along that the real issue was not whether West had authority to bring a suit without Haskell's O. K. but whether the suit ought to have been brought at all. Unfortunately the supreme court could not pass on this.

Mr. Bryan's reply to Colonel Bryan in regard to the Kansas bank guaranty proposition is brief in that the Kansas republicans to kick up the idea and put in the element of common sense Colonel Bryan's plan lacked.

If the Denver convention could have only been aware of the nature of the article Cleveland had prepared before his death on the 1908 campaign it would not have mentioned him in any sort of resolutions.

The Indiana Construction Company receivership case will be decided by Judge Ralph Campbell today. We can't tell how it will go but know it will be decided right.

Smart men seem to regard the tender of the job of chief of police in place of Crockett Lee as if it were a vice presidential nomination.

Ideal Determines the Character.

Keep your ideal constantly before you, never lost sight of it. The ideal has transformed the world and spurred their kind on to effort and accomplishment. They have made us great by mingling with our daily pursuits transcendent conceptions and so have thrown around our daily life, our conscious life, the grandeur of a better.

Do Not Worry.

Do not worry; eat three square meals a day; say your prayers, be courteous to your creditors; keep your digestion good; exercise; go slow, and say "My dear friends, there are other things that your special case requires to make you happy; but, my friend, those I reckon will give you a good lift."—Abraham Lincoln.

No Wonder.

Intense Mad. He had a perfectly terrible expression on his face—just like one who knew he was doomed to destiny. Practical Friend—Very likely, this wife is going to move to the suburbs to-morrow and has just made him buy a law-mower.

Value of Olive Oil.

It has been said that olive oil is good for some people to take all the time and for all people to take some of the time. It is a sovereign remedy for stomach trouble. It hits out the bowels and builds up the system and relieves aches and pains and the twinges of rheumatism.

A Hard Name.

A woman author of Washington has sued a critic for saying that she "has played the part of a feminine parophry among the non-scientific agdids of Washington." We don't know what this means, but it is libelous per se and the young woman ought to get $1,000,000 damages.

Treatment of Guests.

"Don't judge your guests" anything they ask for in reason, provided you have it in the house, even supposing you yourself disapprove of any particular food or drink being used. You ask your friends for their happiness, not yours.

Queer Word.

The Man of Ease—When I compare the one or two creditors I have with the millions and millions of people to whom I owe nothing, I wonder why in the world those fellows make such a confounded fuss about it.—Filegends Blaetter.

Secret Shrines.

Sometimes I think that it is almost impudent to wonder about one's friends when one is certain beyond wondering that they all have secret places in their hearts filled with delight and tears.—Zona Gale.

The True Man.

Who is a true man? He who does the truth, and never holds a principle on which he is not prepared in any hour to act, and in any hour to risk the consequences of holding it.—Thomas Carlyle.

A Disappointment.

"Have you done anything to popularize yourself?" "Yes," answered the youthful politician, "but in vain." "I can't get the public to call me by my first name or make fun of my fancy waistcoats."

Way of the World.

We live in a maze of kaleidoscopic fashions. One of the quaint effects is this: How suddenly the man who gets up in the world can forget you, and how suddenly he can remember you when he comes down.

Building Note in 1923.

In order to complete the one hundred and tenth story of the Skyrocket building, the contractors will have to raise the sky three or four feet.—Harper's Weekly.

Effect of Liquid Air on Lead.

Subject to the action of liquid air, lead becomes elastic, and can be made to rebound or serve as a spiral spring during the continuance of this low temperature.

A Stroke of Novelty.

"What makes you regard that man as such a brilliant original orator?" "He made an oratorical speech without saying that he had not expected to be called on."

In the Matter of Numbers. Next to the sands on the seashore and the stars in the heavens the poems on "Compensation" seem to be most numerous.

A Word from Josh Wils. "Some women get jealous of their husbands for no other reason than that their husbands respect her as jealous of them."

Treatment of Feather Pillows. If feather pillows have an unpleasant odor give them a thorough drying before a clear fire.

Let 1,000,000 Be Battered. The Army of Tsching, King of Ethiopia, consisted of 1,000,000 men and 300 chariots of war.

Krebs	3 2 .600
Traction Co.	3 3 .500
Red Sox	2 4 .333

Hithlas 8, Red Sox 2. Traction Co. 5, Krebs 1. The above indicates the results of the games in the Friday league Sunday. The Hithlas and Traction Company certainly had their rabbit feet with them Sunday. The former game was played at League park while the latter was played at Krebs.

The winners from the Red Sox by importing a pitcher, Earlick, from Haysboro. Earlick held the O'Connell men to two hits and it was only by his wildness that Earlick allowed the little players to dent the plate at all.

The result of the game by Innings: R.H.E. Hithlas 303 001 100-8 6 3 Red Sox 000 000 011-2 2 1 Batteries: Earlick and Hawk; Clifton, Dickerson and Connelly.

Umpire—Palmer. The game at Krebs. The game at Krebs was quite one-sided. The Krebs players played a listless game and allowed the railroad boys to make runs whenever they wanted to.

EJECT SETTLERS.

M. A. Howerton of the Indian Agent's Office, Here With Police to Remove Men Who Won't Pay Rent.

M. A. Howerton, from the office of the Indian agent at Muskogee, was here this morning with eight Indian policemen for the purpose of ejecting all settlers on the segregated coal lands who have refused to pay the rent that the Indian agent has been collecting. Under the law all settlers could be removed but the department has been collecting rent from settlers and allowing them to remain until congress makes some disposition of the surface.

DEAN FORTUNE DEAD.

Dean Fortune, son of G. M. Fortune, one of the brightest young men in McAlester, died of appendicitis at All Saints' hospital this forenoon about 10 o'clock. The appendicitis was far advanced and the doctors were of the opinion that an operation would be of no avail. But it was performed as a last chance. Young Fortune was a remarkably talented young man of about 21. He not only had a keen intellect but was gifted in music and prior to his death had a position with a company in Durant at Buffalo, Mo. The remains will be taken north on the flyer Tuesday afternoon for interment.

The police had not located her assailants. She is about 20 years old.

DIPLOMACY SURELY HIS LINE.

Bridegroom Knew the Value of a Few Honeyed Words.

They sat in the express, billing and cooing. Now and again they would shake themselves like damp dogs and tiny particles of rice would scatter on the carpet. "Sweetheart," said the bridegroom at length, speaking in tender but manly tones, "sweetheart, would you mind if I went into the 'smoker' for a bit?" She pouted. "What?" she exclaimed. "To smoke, love?" He cast up his hands. "Oh, no, no, no!" he assured her. "I may smoke, but that is not why I wish to leave you. I only want to suffer for a brief space the agony of absence from your side so that I may subsequently experience the intense joy of my return."

She smiled sweetly and watched him depart with a pale-purple lovelight in his eyes. And he, as he lit the cigar he had been longing for during the last two hours, smiled profoundly and wondered why he was not in the diplomatic service.—Tattler.

A Kissing Acquaintance.

As Rev. Edward Everett Hale, chaplain of the United States senate, was walking along a Boston street, he was suddenly accosted most familiarly and affectionately by a woman who, without further warning, proceeded to throw her arms round his neck and kiss him on both cheeks.

This followed a brief conversation wherein the woman's part, guarded on Dr. Hale's part, who confined himself to discreet inquiries as to the welfare of the woman's family; were they well—and living in the same place?—and so forth.

Finally the woman tore herself away, and the venerable divine turned to his companion.

"I should have been glad to introduce you, but I did not know the lady's name," he said, with his gentle smile. "To tell the truth," he added, reflectively, "I didn't even know I had a kissing acquaintance with her."—Sunday Magazine.

The Shanghai Judgship.

Just judges are appreciated in Shanghai, and, indeed, the need of their being men of fearless integrity may be said to increase with the square of the distance from home, since here there are many judges and all are equally in need of appeal, possibilities and facilities of appeal, and in every place all may depend upon the decision of a single judge. Let it be known that the American Judge at Shanghai does strict and impartial justice, regardless of fear or favor, and that he is supported in the problem of transporting a consignment of that magnitude to your dominion, I should at least suggest the propriety of going twice for it.—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Reason for Thanks.

The inexpressible author's wife was trying on a new dress and endeavoring to observe the bang of it by means of a round mirror on top of a high chair. Every woman will appreciate what that means. "Oh, dear!" she exclaimed, as she thought with some pathos, "I haven't seen the bottom of my skirt since I was married." Her husband looked up, brute that he was, and remarked: "Well, you can thank God for that!"

Happened in Boston.

Party Hanging to Lamp Post—Say, am I sober? Citizen—Pardon me, my friend, I am not a judge of inebriety, but henceforth when you are confronted with the problem of transporting a consignment of that magnitude to your dominion, I should at least suggest the propriety of going twice for it.—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

A Use for All.

"You have three pairs of glasses, Professor?" "Yes; I use one to read with, one to see at a distance, and the third to find the other two."—Literary Digest.

Near the center of the page today is a picture of some very important members of the show, which you will see next week. Well, we want you to write a story about this picture or about a circus and we will give a family ticket to the shows as a premium. The contest opens at once and will close Tuesday noon, Sept. 1st.

Mr. J. P. Jones and daughter, Mrs. L. W. Bryan with her son Luke, left last Tuesday for Boulder, Colorado. They will go from there to Kansas City where they will visit several days and from there to Iowa and Ohio where they will visit relatives, returning to McAlester about October first.

IS NOT DEBATABLE

T. L. Barnett, the chief stockholder in the Pear's Soap concern, which has within the last few years spent $15,000,000 in advertising, expresses his conviction that printers ink is the best kind of a commercial investment, in the following language:

"I cannot understand how the question can be debated," he said. "Why the fact that advertising pays is clearly demonstrated every day as that the sun rises. Select the proper medium, advertise intelligently and your fortune is made."

"You must have new ideas for the changes of fashion. I spent $630,000 in advertising in one year and it paid well. Good goods, good advertising and plenty of it is my advice to ambitious commercial men."
